What is household hazardous waste?

Many chemicals are used every day in our homes and yards. When they are no longer needed or useful, they become waste. These items could be potentially dangerous and are not safe to dispose in the regular trash due to possible harm to sanitation workers and the environment. Whether you have old pesticides you don't trust, gasoline that isn't usable, items containing mercury or paint products no longer needed, this is your chance to dispose of them.

There is no charge for acceptable materials.

What do you have to do?

-  Submit completed form on or before Friday, December 1st online (Alpharetta.ga.us). You will receive a confirmation email.
-  Bring the confirmation with you on December 9th. Help a neighbor! If you bring HHW items for your neighbors, remember to bring their confirmation email.
-  Bring items safely in original containers and tighten all lids. Do not allow items to mix. No smoking around HHWs when transporting or within the collection site.
-  Remain in your vehicle at the collection.
